الشاعر هارون هاشم رشيد

The Poet Harun Hashem Rashid

The poet Harun Hashem Rashid was born in the Zaytoun neighborhood of Gaza City in 1927. He studied in Gaza schools until he obtained the Higher Teachers' Certificate. Then he moved to radio work as head of the Egyptian Voice of the Arab Radio office in Gaza, then he supervised the media of the Palestine Liberation Organization in the Gaza Strip until 1967, when he moved to Cairo as head of the editorial office. The organization there, and then worked until his retirement in the Arab League.

The poet is considered one of the most prominent contemporary poets, and he received many names throughout his poetic career, such as the national poet of Palestine, the poet of the Nakba, the poet of return, and the poet of revenge. From the beginning, he was a witness to the Palestinian events, and chronicled them through the successive developments that went through the Palestinian tragedy.

His poems poured in to visualize what is happening, draw the features of the displaced, and herald their return.

Harun Hashim Rashid published more than 22 collections of poetry, which he started in 1954 with his first collection entitled "Al-Ghurabaa", and his poetry was distinguished by the national romance that the Arab generations sang from the ocean to the Gulf.

The poet wrote a number of poetic plays, including the play "The Fall of Bar-Lev" and a number of novels, in addition to some TV series and films. Palestine was the name and title, and it was the beginning and end of all his works.

His last collection of poems was "Palestinian Poems", which was published in 2002 on the occasion of choosing Amman as the capital of Arab culture.

He won many awards, including the Sharjah Arab Poetry Festival Award in 2014, coinciding with the publication of his thirtieth book, "I Love You, Jerusalem", and the first edition of his theatrical works.

The Palestinian poet Harun Hashem Rashid passed away, on Monday 27/7/2020, at the age of 93, after a busy literary career in a foreign country.

اليـــوم الـوطـنـي للـمـرأة
National Woman's Day

Palestinian women play an important and pivotal role since the beginning of the revolution and before it until the present day, as they are a symbol of challenge and steadfastness, despite the living conditions they live under the occupation and its violations of violence, displacement, and killing.

The twenty-sixth of October was chosen as the National Day of Palestinian Women because it coincides with the holding of the first women's conference in Jerusalem in 1929, where more than 300 women participated at the time in the conference, and came up with a set of important decisions that sincerely expressed what the people of Palestine were looking forward to and demanding at the time. of its being, and the importance of its real involvement in it.

The adoption of the National Day of Palestinian Women came to send messages abroad stressing the specificity of the Palestinian situation, including the existing challenges that hinder the process of equality of Palestinian women with other women in the world, and seeking to amend the status quo by working on what can be harmonized from existing laws to international conventions and treaties on women.

اليـــوم العـــالـــمـــي لـكـبـــار الـسـن
International Day of Older Persons

International Day of Older Persons is one of the United Nations holidays and an annual global occasion that is commemorated on the first of October of each year, where the United Nations General Assembly voted to establish this day on December 14, 1990, and the International Day of Older Persons is celebrated to raise awareness of the problems facing the elderly, such as aging and abuse of the elderly, and it is also a day to celebrate what the elderly have accomplished for society. This celebration is similar to Grandparents' Day in America and Canada as well as to the Double Ninth celebration in China and Respect for the Elderly Day in Japan.

The objectives of adopting the International Day of Older Persons are to draw attention to this age group that has contributed to the development of societies, raise awareness of the importance of preventive and curative care for the elderly, strengthen health services and prevent diseases, provide appropriate technology and rehabilitation, train staff in the field of elderly care, and provide the necessary facilities to meet the needs of the elderly. Age, like nursing homes, also urge NGOs and families to support the elderly to follow a good health approach.

Between 1950 and 2010, life expectancy worldwide rose from 46 to 68 years. Globally, there were 703 million people aged 65 or older in 2019. East and Southeast Asia was home to the largest number of older people, followed by Europe and North America.

In Palestine, in the latest surveys of the Central Bureau of Statistics, on the International Day of the Elderly, 5.5% of the total population in Palestine constitutes the elderly group, as their number reached 297,069 individuals until the middle of last year, 196,251 individuals, constituting about 6.2% of the total population in the West Bank, and 100,818 individuals and 4.7% of the total population in the Gaza Strip.

The number of elderly males until the middle of last year in Palestine was about 144 thousand individuals, or 5.3% of the total males in Palestine, compared to 153 thousand females, or 5.8% of the total females, and according to the statistics report, approximately 71% of the elderly suffer from chronic diseases according to the results of the Smoking and Tobacco Consumption Survey 2021, and the percentage of the elderly suffering from chronic diseases in both the West Bank and Gaza Strip reached about 72% and 69% on Respectively, this percentage reached about 66% among males and 76% among females, and the labor force participation rate among the elderly reached 14% during 2021, and was distributed by 18% in the West Bank compared to 6% in Gaza Strip.

خَمْسُونَ عَامًا عَلَى إغتيال الأَدِيبْ الشَّهيد غَسَّان كَنَفَاني
50 years since the martyrdom of Ghassan Kanafani

Ghassan Kanafani was a Palestinian author, novelist, short-story writer, journalist, political thinker, and activist and literary critic. He was born on April 9, 1936, in Acre.

After the "Nakba" in 1948 he was displaced with his family to Lebanon. They moved to Damascus; where he studied Arabic literature at its university.

He worked as a journalist for "Al-Ayyam" newspaper in Damascus in 1955, then moved to Kuwait to work there as an art and sport teacher, and there he wrote his first story "The Stolen Shirt".

He moved to Beirut in 1960 and began editing the ANM mouthpiece "al-Hurriya" in 1961, and became the editor in chief of "Al Muharrir" and editing its weekly supplement "Filastin".

Ghassan Kanafani has published eighteen books, critical works, novels and short stories, in addition to hundreds of newspaper articles. He became one of the pillars of modern Arab literature.

On 8 July 1972, Kanafani, age 36 at the time, was assassinated in Beirut in a car bomb explosion. Mossad eventually claimed responsibility, and Golda Meir said: "Today we got rid of an armed ideological brigade." But his revolutionary spirit still in habits his books and is conveyed to his readers nourishing their souls with dignity, freedom and revolution.

In 2019, the Palestinian Ministry of Culture confirmed the eighth of July of each year, the Palestine Forum for the Arabic Novel, and in 2022, on the fiftieth commemoration for his assassination, the ministry established the Ghassan Kanafani Prize for Arabic Novels.

كوفيد 19

Covid 19

Coronavirus 2019 is a virus that causes acute respiratory illness that was first discovered in the Chinese city of Wuhan and has spread around the world since that time, causing the global pandemic that continues until now, and the ratio of the number of deaths to the number of diagnosed infections is estimated at about 3.4%, but it varies according to age and the presence of other diseases.

The virus is transmitted primarily when close contact between individuals, and susceptibility to infection peaks during the first three days after the onset of symptoms, and common symptoms of the disease include fever, cough, fatigue, shortness of breath, loss of smell and taste, the list of complications may include both pneumonia and acute respiratory distress syndrome, and the time interval between exposure to the virus and the onset of symptoms ranges from two to 14 days at an average rate of five days, there is still no vaccine or viral treatment effective against Novel coronavirus, and the management of the disease is limited to treating symptoms with supportive therapy.

Preventive recommendations include washing hands, covering the mouth when coughing, maintaining adequate distance between individuals, wearing medical face masks in public places, and monitoring and self-isolating people suspected of being infected.

The pandemic has caused severe global social and economic damage, including the largest global economic recession since the Great Depression, as well a s the postponement or cancellation of sports, religious, political and cultural events, significant shortages of supplies and equipment exacerbated by a panic procurement, and reduced emissions of pollutants and greenhouse gases. Schools, universities and colleges have also been closed nationally and globally in many countries due to the spread of the epidemic is widespread around the world.

Wadi Al-Qilt Reserve

Nature Reserve means a life reserve or conservation area in a country that is an area of interest to the flora, animal organisms, geological features or other special interests that are reserved, managed and preserved.

Wadi Al-Qilt Reserve is a Roman nature reserve located in the lowest spot on earth with an area of more than 28 square kilometers and forms a colorful palette with greenery and beauty, where spring flowers, red anemones, medicinal wild herbs and more than 30 species of animals and high rock walls extend for 45 kilometers between Jerusalem and Jericho to form a natural slope between the neighboring plateaus, and by walking with the eastern mountains of Ramallah and occupied Jerusalem, the eyes of water overlook to pour into Wadi Al - Qilt Which is considered one of the most beautiful walking trails in Palestine, as Wadi Al-Qilt Reserve is one of the picturesque nature reserves.

Wadi Al-Qilt, in which the reserve is located, is classified in Area (C) according to the Oslo Accords, so the occupation control prevents any restoration or rehabilitation work in many sections of the valley, whether from environmental or private parties, in addition to the fact that the occupation destroys archaeological sites or attributes them to itself in an attempt not to find any historical link to Palestine.
